First of all everyone needs a Will, less than half of the people has a will. If you have a will need to have it looked at every 3-5 years and you need an attorney if you are making changes. Most states have similar laws, if you move need to make sure the laws are the same. Revocable living trust can be changed anytime verse an irrevocable cannot be change. Have to be dead for a will to apply. You can fill a will at probate court, security deposit at a bank or a safe at home. When you prepare a will has to be written and signed with witness at the same time can be written of typed. Tom opened to the floor for questions.*
